

CHRISTIE'S

The insiders' guide to Art Basel Miami Beach 2017

Seven leading art-world figures open up their little black books to offer expert advice on what to see and where to eat, drink and relax at December's glitziest art fair

Dominique Lévy, co-founder and partner of Lévy Gorvy gallery

'This will be my 10th year showing at the fair, and I'll be at the Lévy Gorvy booth \(E6\) showing works by Chuck Close, Robert Motherwell, François Morellet and more. I am certainly hoping to find time to visit the new ICA building too — it's a must-see, with an incredible exhibition program, including The Everywhere Studio (see above) and also the first ever museum presentation of Wet Night Early Dawn, the historic series by Senga Nengudi.

Dominique Lévy recommends the Argentine tenderloin at Los Fuegos at the Faena

'Dine at Casa Tua, which is right on Miami Beach. Los Fuegos at the Faena is also exceptional — make sure to try the Argentine tenderloin. Often I stay with friends in Miami, but if not, the Faena Hotel is beautiful. I recommend visitors find a place right in the heart of the action, which is to say in Miami Beach. For me, it's best to be right near the fair.
